'The Coleman Story'

For the benefit of those who were out of town on Sunday evening or could not get the broadcast the Journal gives you a re-print of "The Coleman Story" as broadcast over C. F. C. N. Calgary, at 9.30 last Sunday evening.

The Story of Coleman — In the Crow's Nest Pass of Alberta's Southwestern Rockies — is for the most part the story of Coal in Western Canada — for Coleman is situated — not in, but on, Canada's largest supply of coal.

The history of coal in this area dates back to around 1885 when a few hardy settlers began mining in a small way — it was not until 1898 when the CPR put a line through "The Crow" that the great mining development started. A 1902 geological survey left no doubt as to the coal potential of this mountainous region and so in 1903 the International Coal and Coke Company of Spokane was formed, which coincided with the first settling of Coleman on McGillivray Hill in October, 1903.

Prior to the first settling of Coleman — this area had its moments of colorful history. In the early 1800's there were several ranches in the Coleman area, owned by such pioneers as Messrs. Gainey, Offner, Mitchell and Jenkins. The Knowles ranch is another Coleman district landmark.

The Red man, too, figures in this area's history. Many tribes inhabited the region — the Crow Indians making it their home. However, in 1859, a great Indian battle between the Crow on the one hand and the Blackfeet, Bloods, Sarcees and North Peigans on the other — drove the Crows from their stronghold.

That section of Coleman known as East Coleman, was the first to be settled to any extent — and residents today recall such names as Messrs. "Pete" and "Sam" and Tom Ryplen as among the first to arrive. By 1904, Coleman reached the status of a village and a town charter was established in 1910.

With so much coal in the area — it was natural that more than one company would enter the field, so in 1909 the McGillivray Creek Coal and Coke Company began operations. By this time, mining operations were unhampered. The CPR had erected a permanent station; Mounted Police protection was supplied to Coleman which now (that is in 1907) had reached a population of 1300 people.

It is interesting to note that prices in those days are something to recall as only a dream. Room and board was $22 to $26 a month; a four-room house could be built for $120 a room; coal was $2.50 a ton and miners earned $3.00 a day. As the 20th century progressed ed many changes and improvements have been wrought in the Coleman district. Today, with a mixed population of nearly 2,000 people (with nearly as many in the outskirts) the population which hails from Central and Southern Europe, Britain, and Finland, have welded Coleman into a modern, and indeed, picturesque town.

From a few log cabins at the turn of the century — the town today serves a trading area of some 4500 people. Coleman has all modern services — a hospital, churches, a weekly paper, fine hotels and motels, and supports year-round sporting activities. The business life of Coleman is well represented with shops, theatres and professional and skilled services of many kinds. Sadly, with the advance of modern methods and materials, the Crow's Nest area has been hard hit by ever-widening coal markets.

However, the mountainous horizon of Coleman holds more than "Black Gold" in "them thar hills". Today, Coleman stands on the threshold of a booming tourist industry and certainly doesn't lack any of the raw materials.

The Crow's Nest Pass is rich in God-given beauty — beautiful mountains such as the Sleeping Giant, the Crow's Nest Mountain and Sentinel Mountain highlight the rugged beauty of the region.

Good roads and excellent tourist accommodation attract hundreds of tourists each year, who find at Coleman a central point for unmatched fishing, hunting, camping and all outdoor sports and recreation. The area, which is difficult to surpass.

The lakes, rivers, mountains and giant forest region around Coleman, provide a vacationist's paradise. Coleman is at the southern end of the famous Kananaskis highway, an excellent inter-mountain forest highway, providing the tourist with over 130 miles of splendid beauty with periodic camping spots — fishing, animal life, trees and mountain flowers.

The Kananaskis Highway is still another beautiful route from the south through Alberta's scenic mountains and foothills to Banff and Jasper. Even though the coal picture is black (and that's not a pun) the future tourist industry potential of Coleman is indeed bright and some day may even surpass "The Black Gold" which gave Coleman its beginning and provided its livelihood.

Civil Servants Assn. Hold Banquet at Turtle Mountain

Mr. B. Sutherland, editor of the Civil Service Bulletin, Edmonton; Mr. William Kovach, M.L.A.; Mr. Dave Young, of Coleman Collieries, and president of Board of Trade; Miss Kathleen Oliver, lady in waiting; Mrs. Len Westhauer, Mr. J. H. Hanrahan, chairman Br. 9; Miss Shirley Morency, queen of Br. 9; Mr. Jack Robinson, a retiring member of the Civil Service, Br. 9; Mrs. William Kovach, Mrs. Joe Hanrahan, Mrs. Dave Young, Mr. N. H. Bradley, District Highway Engineer.

At the finish of the banquet an address was given by Mr. William Kovach, who spoke on the duties of the civil servant to the government and the people, and felt that civil servants in his constituency were living up to the standards expected of them by the government and the people.

Next speaker of the evening was Mr. Dave Young, who thanked the members of Br. 9 for the honor extended to him and Mrs. Young, and commended the members on their choice in picking Miss Shirley Morency to represent them as Miss Civil Service, stating the fact that if he were the judge, which he wouldn't mind being, he would assure the members of her triumphant success.

A recess was then called to allow the hotel attendants to clean up the banquet room.

After the recess a short program preceded the dance. The crowning of the queen opened the program. She was escorted to the throne by Constable McMillan of the RCMP, Blaimore detachment. The pianist, Mrs. Duncan, played the Maple Leaf Forever. Mr. N. H. Bradley had the honor of lighting the crown — an honor he performed with great dignity.

This was followed by an address by Mr. Ben Sutherland, who thanked the Br. for the invitation.

Next item on the program was the singing of Little Brown Jug by Joe Trot and Edna Campbell, who were dressed in hillbilly attire and staggered on to the stage. Members of the branch thought the stagger was really no act. This was followed by two solos by Edna Campbell, then came pipe music by John Elliott (who played Scotland the Brave in full Scottish attire). John might be hard of hearing but he sure can make the pipes talk.

Dr. Brattian gave a clarinet solo accompanied by Mrs. Duncan on the piano.

The entertainment program was then brought to a close with the presentation made by Mr. Cecil Coover to Mr. Jack Robinson who has retired from the service. The gift was a wallet and a sum of money.

The proprietors of the Turtle Mountain Playgrounds supplied the four cabins which were reserved for out of town guests.

Coleman Boy Wed at Calgary

Mr. and Mrs. R. Tiffen of Coleman, announce the marriage of their son Richard, to Miss Noreen Eubank of Swift Current, Sask., on Monday, April 29 at 6:30 p.m.

The wedding was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. Eubank, brother and sister-in-law of the bride, with the Rev. I. C. Lethbridge conducting the service.

The bride wore a mustard colored suit with white accessories and carried a white Bible topped with a red rose bud corsage.

She was attended by her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. R. Eubank.

Following the service the wedding supper was held.

Those present for the occasion were Mr. and Mrs. Richard Tiffen, Mr. and Mrs. L. Schnitz and Cathy, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Royer of Calgary, and friends of the family.

Whether it is a flood, fire or a famine, your Canadian Red Cross is on the job, serving for you.

New High School Building for Pass Area Projected

BLAIRMORE — A special meeting of the members of the Crow's Nest Consolidated School District and a large representation of the teachers of the district was held in the Union hall in Blaimore on Tuesday evening to discuss the prospects and general plan of a new high school in the area and to get the teachers' views on matters of organization. The meeting was under the chairmanship of T. J. Costigan.

D. MacPherson, principal of the Blaimore schools, on behalf of the teachers, presented a brief on the proposed high school requirements for both junior and senior high restricted to grades nine to 12 inclusive. Included in the brief was also an estimate of the Blaimore enrolment in all grades which showed some 387 persons. The brief indicated that a 14 room school with auditorium was required — which would include nine rooms for the high school and five rooms for the junior high school.

Sites Considered

Possible sites were discussed, and the following were brought up for study — Blaimore sports field, Hillcrest, Pleasant Valley, Bellevue Bogus farm, Bellevue Kula Flat, Frank Kotkas Flats and the Blaimore Cartwright property and also another site at Passburg if the district boundary is extended to include that district.

The teachers recommended a building with two wings, or an E shape structure, and it was suggested that buildings at Queen's Park and the Viscount Bennett School in Calgary be visited and studied.

It was pointed out at the meeting that a superintendent of a district of more than 20 teachers would be appointed by the department of education and paid by that department but in a district of smaller staff the district would have to appoint its own superintendent to be paid out of its own revenues and that each school of more than two rooms requires a principal.

A discussion took place regarding a superintendent and it was suggested that the board contact the department of education. Dr. K. T. Thomson and J. A. McKay and he guided by their advice in the choice of a superintendent. It was the wish of the teachers that a superintendent be chosen from the local teaching staff and that his salary be equivalent to that paid other officials of this capacity.

Jr. High School Students to Assist Siska Fund

The committee chosen to decide what the Junior High School should do to help the Siska Fund, met in the Grade 9B room on Wednesday, May 1st. The chairman Danny DeCocco, conducted the meeting.

The committee decided the following:

a) — Baby sitting from 12 noon to 12 midnight (at any time) during these hours charging 25c an hour. After midnight 50c an hour. Those who want to have a baby sitter for that night, Saturday, May 11, need only to phone Annie Wesko, phone 3946, and she will provide a baby sitter for the desired time.

b) — Also on Saturday there will be a car wash at Jack Nelson's Garage from 9 a.m. to 12 noon and from 1 p.m. to 8 p.m. The utilities were kindly provided by Mr. Nelson, and the cleaning of the exterior and interior of the cars will be only $1.

c) — In front of the Grand Union and Mr. Huffman's barber shop there will be a shoe shine stand. The boys will be eager to polish and shine your shoes for 10c a pair.

d) — Other odd jobs such as gardening, yard cleaning, etc., will be done upon request. Jackie Mossell in charge of this. So please phone him at 3772.

The Junior High are all participating in these activities, but this will be impossible without your support.

Coleman Collieries Negotiating Four Million Dollar Order With Japan

Pass businessmen and provincial government officials, investigating ways and means to assist the Pass mining industry at a meeting held last week in Blaimore were informed that Coleman Collieries are negotiating a four million dollar coal order with Japan, — the latter needs at 12 million tons a year to meet their requirements.

If a subsidy on the coal was paid by the government then there is a good chance of Coleman getting the order. The present freight rates from Coleman to Portland, are higher than shipping coal from Nova Scotia through the Panama Canal to Japan. If the order is secured loading facilities will be provided at the Vancouver docks. Coal operators are charged $1.50 per ton fee for loading at the Portland docks.

A number of businessmen of the Crow's Nest Pass met with Mr. John Ferguson, unemployment liaison officer, at the National Employment Office. It was an open meeting where all concerned expressed their opinions and suggestions which were recorded by Mr. Ferguson, who stated that they would be forwarded to the government for study.

The government official pointed out that the results of his investigation here might not be brought before the cabinet for about three weeks as the cabinet was extremely busy with other matters.

It was also brought up at the meeting that the Atlas Lumber Co. of Calgary, who have acquired some timber in this area, and the local lumber companies, will require large expansion programs when the timber rights in the Pass are disposed of by the government.

It was hinted at the meeting that the Atlas Lumber Co. is prepared to build a $1,000,000 sawmill near Coleman if they should obtain sufficient timber leases. This alone would help the economy of the Pass greatly.

Why a power plant could not be built even though the demand is low, was also discussed. It was suggested that Calgary Power be contacted to see if they could use the power generated by coal. Mr. Ferguson will visit Calgary Power to find out if they could assist in developing the power station.

While in Calgary he also plans to interview Mr. J. A. Brunet.

Mr. John Hogan, forest superintendent, stated that with an appropriation from the provincial government, he could use at least 40 men for camp shelter building and other jobs connected with his office. Mr. Hogan also stated that the Alberta government should be urged to set up a committee to study and find markets for pine, a good wood in large quantities here, but of little value on the markets.

The possible smelter in this area was discussed but because of the enormous amount of planning for markets etc. little is known by anyone as to when, if at all, one would be built. Time seems to be the only determining factor, that is for positive information.

With most points discussed and recorded, the meeting ended with Mr. Ferguson's assurance that this information will be presented to the cabinet.

Mr. F. Lote said that anyone who is eligible for government assistance in moving out must contact him, as he is in charge of re-habilitation.

St. Paul's United Church Receives New Look

A great change recently took place in the appearance of the sanctuary and vestibule of St. Paul's United Church of Canada. The overflowing congregation on Easter Sunday noted with great appreciation the newness of appearance of their church's interior, as if in keeping with the Easter theme of newness of life. Newness there certainly was, for a four-foot high panelling of blondized veneer, finished with two coatings of glassite, provided a new and attractive finish for the interior of the church.

This veneer, which resembles highly polished wood in its natural appearance, matched the veneer choir curtain installed about a year and a half ago in the church. The remainder of the walls and the ceiling were painted in peach tones which were recommended for church interiors, and proved to be a fitting complement for the wood tones.

The great amount of work involved in doing the walls and ceiling was accomplished between Monday and Saturday, with men working day and night. Lights burned far into the night, although one midnight session was rumored to involve a debate on the Middle East, the only outcome of which was a statement the next morning by the Hon. Lester Pearson.

Upwards of 20 men shared the work, with leadership being provided throughout by the Men's Club. Saturday a full crew worked all day and by 4 p.m. the church was ready for Easter morning.

Dinner and supper were provided for workers on Saturday and lunches for all the night sessions, by the women of the church.

The following week new built-in matching wall tables were added, the interior window frames

Hon. L. B. Pearson To Speak at Fort Macleod

As part of his western tour the Hon. L. B. Pearson, Minister of External Affairs, will address two public meetings in the Macleod Federal Constituency on May 18.

Mr. Pearson, who will be travelling from Lethbridge, where he addresses a meeting the previous day, in Calgary, will speak at Fort Macleod in the afternoon of the 18th and at High River in the evening.

The arrangements for these two meetings are under the direction of local committee in each town.

Canadians have given 1,351,334 bottles of blood to the Canadian Red Cross Blood Transfusion Service since 1947.

More than 13,600 wives and relatives of hospitalized veterans were overnight guests at Red Cross lodges last year.

were painted and bulletin boards were placed in the vestibule and club room of the church.

Craftsmanship of a high calibre has been displayed in this renovation task, and the finished product possesses a beauty worthy of a place of worship.

The Men's Club now have just about finished renovating the interior of the whole church, having done the club room last year. Still in their plans are the continuation and completion of a new basement, and the painting of the roofs and exterior woodwork of the church and manse. The club meets every third Monday night of the month in the church club room to discuss, play, eat and to plan new ways of serving the church.

Some community work also has been included among the services they have rendered in the past.

Junior C. Y. O. Hold Successful Tea

The Junior C. Y. O. of Holy Ghost Church, held a very successful tea, on Saturday, May 4.

Young ladies in gay summer attire served a delicious lunch and tea to a capacity crowd. The pantry table was well patronized.

Fancy work, crocheted articles, and aprons were also for sale.

Grab boxes were being sold at a good pace.

The jelly bean guessing contest for which a lovely doll was the prize was won by Mrs. J. Lepacek.

The lovely 20-piece dinner set was won by Mrs. J. Paulus. A chair set, crocheted, went to Andrew Buckna. One pair of pillow cases were won by Father Tessier, of Bellevue. The other pair of pillow cases went to Louis Cytko.

Contract Awarded To Coleman Firm

It was announced last week by the Alberta government that a contract totalling $61,366 for building of a reinforced concrete deck on a new bridge spanning the North Saskatchewan River near Fort Saskatchewan has been awarded to the Square M Construction Co. and Coleman Collieries Ltd.

These two firms are now doing extensive construction work on the Trans - Canada Highway near Banff.

Macleod Deanery Met at Coleman

The Macleod Deanery Women's Auxiliary of the Anglican Church met in Coleman on Tuesday, April 30. The day began at 11 a.m. with the service of Holy Communion. This was followed by a box lunch in the parish hall.

At 1:30 p.m. the business meeting convened with Mrs. G. C. Dickson of Fort Macleod in the chair.

Mrs. C. Clarke of Coleman extended a welcome to the visitors. Guest speakers were from the diocesan board in Calgary, and included Mrs. Thompson, diocesan president; Mrs. Bastien, Mrs. Hood, Mrs. Boalch and Mrs. Axon.

At the close of the meeting delicious refreshments were served by the W. A. members of Coleman, Blaimore and Bellevue.

New Entrance Signs Erected For Coleman

Friday last saw the erection of new entrance signs on both East and West approaches to Coleman.

Through the efforts of the Board of Trade and in co-operation with the Department of Public Works, these signs were made available.

Mr. J. Hanrahan, Department of Public Works foreman, for this area is to be commended for his efforts in obtaining the fine signs.

What to do about bruises

Bruises are probably the most common injury in sport, and like blisters — are usually overlooked and neglected. Yet bruises often are more serious than they at first appear, and the slight soreness which you didn't pay too much attention to just after the game often becomes so severe the next day that you can hardly move it. This is particularly true of bruises on the thighs and arms.

Then, too, an area which is repeatedly bruised can become calcified if it is not treated properly, and this can cause trouble.

Here's what to do.

As soon as you possibly can, apply cold applications, such as ice or towels soaked in ice water. This must be done almost immediately in order to stop the internal bleeding that causes the typical discolored appearance of the bruise. Very gentle rubbing of the affected area before the cold pack is applied also is a good idea. Keep the pack on for at least half an hour.

Remember, it is the immediate treatment of bruises that is most important. Five minutes of immediate medication is worth five hours later on.

The next step should not be taken until 24 hours have elapsed. This is the application of heat, which helps increase the circulation in the injured area and thus aids in clearing away the fluid and blood that has leaked from the injured tissues. Heat lamps, hot water and heat packs of liniment or analgesic balm are very helpful.

Do not knead or pound the injured area. Gentle rubbing once the bruise has lost its soreness can be effective, but heavy massage is the same as massaging an open cut. Once the severe pain has left the bruise, the athlete can start moving it, gently at first, to try to work out the stiffness that will hamper his movements.

Remember, a neglected bruise will take a lot longer to heal and may cause trouble later on. Treat it properly and promptly, and you'll be back in action far faster.

DIABETES

Many cases of diabetes exist, unsuspected by the persons affected. Until the disease has become established, it may not show symptoms identifiable by anyone but a doctor. People who are over 40 and overweight are more susceptible than the thinner and younger persons, therefore it is wise to have periodic medical tests, especially if there is a history of diabetes in the family.

Snowfall below same period last year by 10 inches

Although the storm of Sunday, March 10, brought eight inches of snow to Hanna and district, it left the overall snowfall somewhat below the previous year.

During the period October 1, 1956, to March 1, 1957, a total of 38 inches had been recorded at the PFRA office in Hanna. In the same period of 1955-56 almost 49 inches fell. Thus far in the season the snowfall is some 10 inches below the previous year.—The Hanna Herald and East Central Alberta News, March 21, 1957.

RURAL ELECTRIFICATION—Through the ever-increasing development of hydro-electric power in Canada, electricity has reached into countless isolated and far-flung rural areas. The steel tower, now a familiar landmark, plays an essential role in feeding the networks of rural power lines which criss-cross the countryside systematically and make farming more efficient and productive. Every year, all across the country, the stringing of transmission lines as shown above goes on continually as the demands of the feeder lines to the rural power networks grow. Today, more than 68 percent of all Canadian farms have been electrified. Canada's hydro-electric capacity now stands at 18,356,148 horse-power, but even this is less than a quarter of our total resources. As an aid to the further development of our abundant water power resources, hydraulic engineers from the federal Resources Department are pressing on with the study of the flow of Canadian rivers. Their findings will eventually lead to the erection of other steel towers, bringing power and a better life to Canadian farms.

OUR BLACK MARK

Canada has a shockingly high rate of home fires, which all too frequently take a toll of human lives. There are many ways by which fire can be prevented. Keep attics and basements free of inflammable rubbish; put hot ashes into metal containers; store inflammable liquids such as coal oil, fuel oils or gasoline far away from the furnace or open flame (better still, keep such liquids outside the house); store matches, cigarette lighters and any other such fire hazard well out of the reach of children. Taking a periodic survey of the house and remedying any fire hazard discovered may prevent loss of property and lives.

Canadian bond markets active

(Contributed by Houston, Willoughby &amp; Co. Ltd.)

An active week was experienced in the Canadian Bond scene partly from trading in outstanding issues and to a certain extent from new security offerings.

Despite the fact that the senior official of one of the Chartered Banks indicated that tight money will probably be here to stay for the rest of this year, there does not seem to be any difficulty in placing issues of a debt nature which are properly priced. The Bank official visiting the West Coast stated that the danger of inflation still persists and that "too many demands are chasing too little funds". He pointed out that the Government's monetary restrictions which amount to not increasing the supply of money, are having a beneficial effect and that despite tight money policy business is still progressing and the measures taken so far may result in available funds being invested or spent even more wisely.

What trading activity there was in the Government of Canada list was carried on at prices which were at least 1/4 higher in some instances and 1/2 up in others. The Trans-Canada Pipeline Units continued in active volume at about $212-$214 and about $132 for the semi-stripped Units. Some of the Uranium issues fell off slightly with Warrants and Bonuses attached, but there was still some interest being shown in these without the Warrants attached, at which level some of them showed a yield of about 8% and more.

INLAND NATURAL GAS TO OFFER 1st MORTGAGE BONDS

It was reported this week that an issue of $15 million of 1st Mortgage Sinking Fund bonds of Inland Natural Gas Co. Ltd. is being offered institutionally this week by a Syndicate.

Coupon rate has not yet been established but is understood likely to be around 6%. The bonds will mature in 1982 and the sinking fund is designed to retire 88% by maturity.

This financing, which follows closely on $8 million convertible debenture issue in February, will complete all financing required in the company's current construction program, John A. McMahon, president said.

At a press conference in Toronto Mr. McMahon said the total capital program would cost $24.5 million. The entire gas distribution system in the interior of B.C. is expected to be completed by October of this year.

Target date for initial delivery to Inland's system of gas by West-coast Transmission is Sept. 1, 1937. Inland Natural Gas will serve some 40 municipalities in B.C.

Future requirements for capital funds of the expansion program of the Bell Telephone Co. called for the issue of a new 1st Mortgage Bond towards the end of this week. It is understood that the issue was to take the form of $20 million of 15 year 1st Mortgage Sinking Fund bonds with a 5% coupon and priced at $98.75 to yield 5.12%. Demand from Investing Institutions was understood to be substantial.

The company has capital outlays this year which are estimated to run at about $176 million. The $20 million offering sold in the U.S. market in January of this year was the last previous financing by the company.

An item of disappointment to some investors was the report that the Quebec Natural Gas financing will not be offered except through Investment Houses located in the Province of Quebec or with their head office there. Judging from preliminary reports many investors are hoping for a similar experience to that of Trans-Canada Pipelines. With half of the issue being sold in the United States it now appears that those people wanting the Units of Subordinated Debentures and stock will have to go into the after market to buy them.

Other developments on the Bond front included the private placement of $8 million of Calgary Power Ltd. 1st Mortgage Bonds 10% Series due April 1/77 priced at $101.50 and accrued interest. The Treasury Bill rate this week provided an average yield of 3.69% as against 3.70% the previous week. The U.S. Treasury Bill rate this week was equivalent to an average yield of 3.050%, up slightly from 3.034% the previous week.

The volume of Provincial, Municipal and Corporation Public Bond financing in Canada during March was very sharply up at nearly $24 million, as against $175 million in March of 1936. The Ontario Hydro issue for $100 million brought the total up very greatly, as the corresponding figure for Provincial financing in March of 1936 was just slightly over $19 million. April is developing into a very active month, and the volume will likely be substantial this month.

Items expected in the near future include new B.C. Electric issue, rumoured to have some Common shares in the ownership company attached. It has also been mentioned that the Canadian Pacific Railway intends to try at the market in the near future.

Work starts on $1,000,000 power plant

Work on the $1 million power plant at Sturgeon Lake is underway, Canadian Utilities manager E. Harrison said.

Pouring of the concrete slab floor started this week.

He said that structural steel for the building should be rising by mid-April.

The powerhouse, with a capacity of 10,000 kilowatts, is expected to be completed and in service by November, Mr. Harrison said.

Firm had also recently completed construction of a line from Claimont to Grande Prairie. No other extensive building was planned for this year.

Company crews are presently clearing for a power line from Slave Lake to Canyon Creek, said Mr. Harrison.

This follows-up acquisition last fall of the properties of Slave Lake Utilities. New line, to be tied into the Grande Prairie transmission system later this year, will serve communities of Slave Lake, Widewater and Canyon Creek.

Smith utilities plant has also been taken over by Canadian Utilities, and that community will be served by a separate plant.—The Herald Tribune, Grande Prairie, Alta. March 29, 1937.

TAKES SPECIAL COURSE—About a hundred youths, mainly from rural communities on the Prairies have almost finished a two-months special army militia course at Winnipeg. Offered each year at this time the training is popular with the men who might otherwise have little to do on the farm at this season. They get full pay and allowances and qualify as a trained soldier before returning to their homes and perhaps part-time militia activity. ## Honorable R. Brown sworn in as Minister of Travel and Information department

Hon. Russel Brown, provincial secretary, was sworn in as minister of the newly formed Department of Travel and Information at a brief ceremony in the legislative building Monday afternoon, April 1st.

The bill setting up the new department, which supercedes the Bureau of Publications, was passed by the Saskatchewan legislature Friday, March 29th, after third reading.

After His Honour Lieutenant Governor W. J. Patterson administered the oath of office, Mr. Brown in the presence of Premier Douglas and his cabinet, signed the Executive Council register. This register records the names of all ministers of the crown and the date each of office was taken.

The new department will be responsible for promoting the development of the tourist industry in Saskatchewan, as well as the use of provincial parks and recreation areas. It will also provide informational services and materials to publicize and illustrate the various services of government agencies.

The overall purpose of the department will be to further promote the social, cultural and economic development of Saskatchewan.

Half-size patterns have fashion flair

There is true artistry in designing half-size printed patterns that are as fashionably fresh and pretty as this one created to make the 5'4" figure look taller, slimmer, smarter.

Anne Adams, the Pattern Designer, gave this pattern fashion, No. 4682, an uncluttered look. The sleeveless dress has gentle ease of line, so flattering to the shorter, fuller figure. Note that collar of the jacket is broad and pointed carrying the interest away from the neck and downward to the trim waistline and square-cut inset pockets of the dress.

To challenge the erroneous theory that half-sizes cannot wear prints, Anne Adams chose this Dan River geometrical design that gives the dress a long look. It is a pink and black Cuyuni rayon and cotton. For the jacket she used solid pink matching fabric.

This spring-into-summer dress is so easy to cut and sew with our Anne Adams easy, fast, accurate pattern. Directions are printed on the pattern pieces so that home dressmakers can read what to do every step of the way. The Printed Pattern comes in Half Sizes 14½, 16½, 18½, 20½, 22½, 24½. Size 16½ requires 3½ yards of 35-inch fabric, bolero 1½ yards.

Order this pretty dress pattern today. Just send FIFTY CENTS in coins for Pattern 4682. Send to:

WHO WILL BE NEXT IN MINE CLOSURES?

(by Ron Crippen, staff writer)

Who will be next? is the burning question on everyone's lips today in the Crows Nest Pass region as they look back over the long list of mines which have been forced to close due to lack of demand for coal.

The latest, the Greenhill, of the West Canadian Collieries, in Blairmore, has become a memory in the minds of many as it ceased to operate last week.

This mine was once the largest in the province of Alberta, but the steady decline in demand for coal saw this once prosperous industry dwindle in production and payroll until it was finally forced to close.

What is going to happen to the coal industry in the West?—is it going to be let die due to the Federal Government's apathy to the plight of these western miners in trying to compete against American imported coal?

Action by both Federal and Provincial Governments is needed now if this valuable industry is to be saved.

There is no cheer in the words mouthed by our Prime Minister who stated in Calgary last week that the coal industry will come back in the next few years as new uses for coal is found. What the industry needs is action not Words.

Where will the trained men come from in 10 years from now? What will happen to the ones now?

The tremendous demand for electrical power cannot be supplied by gas and oil indefinitely. Coal, which abounds in Canada, can meet the demand for power indefinitely.

Why Not Prepare For It Now?

The coal industry and the people who work in it are not interested in what government supplies the answer, but in the action now to save this very valuable industry. Many are the words that have been voiced by political men, and those who have been closely associated with coal industry, that coal will become too valuable to burn in the near future. But what is the 'near future' today, when the people who depend on the industry for their living, lose that livelihood?

No, the answer is not in words, or promises, but in financial assistance to tide the coal industry over the rough spots. The very words of our government leaders when they tell us that the coal industry will come back into its own, leaves no doubt in the minds of all that assistance should be given NOW.

The people of the Crows Nest Pass will settle for nothing else.

YOU AND THE ELECTION

The enumerators were at our house the other day and the voters in our family now know where to vote. The next question — Who to vote for?

Millions of Canadians will be asking themselves that question during the next little while. Here is how we propose to go about answering it at our place. We decided, in a family conflagration last night that we'd take the following steps:

a) Know the Candidates: We are starting at once to find out what parties and what candidates are going to fight for election in our constituency. We'll try to find out how well they handle their own affairs, and how well they've conducted the affairs they have been charged with by others.

b) Quiz the Candidates: Each candidate in our constituency is going to get an invitation to spend an hour or so in our living room trying to tell us why we should vote for him or her. And we'll have a list of questions to ask—How do you stand on the Canada Council setting $100,000,000 for culture? Do you believe the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation should be given $47,000,000 in the next six years presumably also for culture? Do you believe in compulsory farm marketing boards having taxing power over the individual farmer? Will you reduce taxes or will you support every expensive project that you think will win some votes?

c) A Written Commitment: The candidate who can be assured of our vote will be the candidate who will give us a written commitment that he or she will stand up and vote and speak against any further welfare schemes until the welfare money now being paid out is worth what it was worth when the payments began. Until the old age pension will buy at least as much as it did the year it was started, this country just can't afford economically or morally to spend money for less worthy projects.

In short, we are going to make absolutely certain that as far as the candidates in our riding are concerned, they'll know at least our family has no use for any politician who will spend the people's money to buy the people's votes.

Child Safety Week Program To Be Held

A child Safety Program sponsored by the Alberta Department of Public Health to open on May 5 was announced today by the Hon. Dr. W. W. Cross, Minister of Public Health. Purpose of the campaign Dr. Cross stated, is to stimulate individual and community action to reduce the number of Alberta children killed and injured by preventable accidents.

The program is being organized by the Health Education Services of the Department of Public Health in co-operation with the civic Health Departments and Health Units of the province. Co-operating in the drive are nearly 200 Home and School Associations in various communities, the Boy Scouts Association of Alberta and the Girl Guides Association of Alberta.

Last year 132 Alberta children under the age of 14 years were killed in accidents according to the preliminary report of the Bureau of Vital Statistics. A study of the coroners' reports and police reports on these accidents reveals that 76 per cent of them could have been prevented by reasonable forethought and care of adults. In addition it has been estimated that 5,000 children received injuries needing medical attention during the year.

A breakdown of the 132 child accident fatalities reported by the Bureau of Vital Statistics shows that motor vehicle and farm tractor accidents took the lives of 44 children; drowning claimed the lives of nine; mechanical accidents, four; and scaldings, 14; gunshot wounds, 32; asphyxia, 20; fires, explosions and others, nine. Fifty-six per cent of those killed were four years old or younger and 84 per cent were nine years old or younger.

More children are killed by accidents than any other single cause the Hon. Dr. Cross pointed out. This makes accident prevention a challenge to public health.

Provincial Chamber Annual Meeting in June

R. H. G. Bonneycastle, a director of the Canadian Chamber of Commerce and a past president of the Winnipeg Chamber, will address the annual dinner of the Alberta Associated Chambers of Commerce and Agriculture, according to Associated Chambers president, F. S. (Ted) Kreutzer of Fort Macleod.

Mr. Bonneycastle is currently president of Ducks Unlimited (Canada), a member of the Manitoba Sanatorium Board and is active in a number of other organizations.

In business, added Mr. Kreutzer, he is president and general manager of the Stovel-Advocate Press Ltd., Winnipeg; vice-president of Selkirk Metal Products Ltd., and a member of the Advisory Board of Toronto General Trusts Corporation.

The Provincial Chamber president stated that his organization's 19th annual meeting will be held at the Macdonald in Edmonton on Tuesday and Wednesday, June 11 and 12 with Mr. Bonneycastle addressing the Wednesday luncheon.

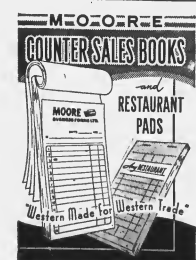

This is the first time the convention has been held in Edmonton said Mr. Kreutzer, and next year it will be in Calgary, also for the first time.

Delegates from the majority of the 125 member Alberta boards and chambers are expected to assemble to discuss policy matters that will include problems of our national parks, northern development questions, highway construction and safety, problems of education and a variety of other questions of concern to all Alberta.

In addition, one director will be elected to the board to represent each of the 29 zones into which the province has been divided — an entirely new basis of election, according to Mr. Kreutzer.

The four major cities are zones in themselves and the other 25 cover the whole province. This will permit more direct contact between the Association and its members. And thus better service to the members, he said.

Robins usually rear two broods of young in a year.

Macleod C.C.F. Convention Nominates Jack Griffin

Residents of the Macleod Federal Riding have the opportunity of voting for an outstanding man of the character when they cast their ballots for the C. C. F. candidate in the election next June 10th.

Jack Griffin, who was the unanimous choice of the Convention in Claresholm last March 23rd, was born in England. He came, with his parents, to Fort Macleod in 1908, served in the Armed Forces in the First Great War, and upon his return, farmed in the district until 1924. Since that time he has been a clerk in the same store in Fort Macleod.

As a past C. C. F. organizer in Southern Alberta, he became so well and favorably known, that he has been nominated twice previously, once as a Federal Candidate for the C. C. F. and once in a Provincial contest.

Mr. Griffin has been continuously on the Board of the United Church since 1925. He has also been a delegate to Presbytery, to annual Conference and once a Commissioner to the General Council, meeting in Toronto. His devotion to humanitarian causes is evidenced by the services he so gladly renders. He is secretary of the Fort Macleod Old Age Pensioners' Association; director and unpaid treasurer of the Macleod Savings and Credit Union, with its 300 members and $80,000 in assets.

The C. C. F., with its basic philosophy of co-operation and justice, is the party for people, who, like Jack Griffin, wish to see Canada's phenomenal prosperity shared by all citizens on an equitable basis.

South Alberta Presbytery Convenes In Coaldale

The South Alberta Presbytery of the United Church of Canada convened in Coaldale United Church on Thursday, May 2nd chaired by the Rev. G. D. Young of Taber, with the Rev. L. T. C. Harbour as secretary.

The convenor of colleges and students reported on the satisfactory progress of Paul Cashore, Paul Marayama and Marvin Pickering. South Alberta candidates for the ministry, studying at present at Union College in Vancouver. He reported on Douglas Weatherburn, who has been studying at St. Andrew's College in Saskatoon, and is expecting to be ordained this spring.

Personal contact was made with Ormand Lavene and Leroy Angle, Bow Island boys, who are candidates for the ministry at St. Stephen's College in Edmonton.

Discussion was made of the present allocation for the Missionary and Maintenance fund of 15 per cent of the total amount raised by the charge for all purposes. Rev. George Spady, convenor of the Pastoral Relations committee, pointed out that several vacancies appeared to be imminent in South Alberta, at the end of the conference year.

Rev. Allan S. Hunt of Coaldale, was granted leave of absence for one year in order to take post-graduate training in the United States. Rev. R. M. Moriarty's call to Wesley Church in Welland, Ont., was sustained. The call of Rev. W. Dornier of Fairview, Alberta, to Pincher Creek, was sustained. The call of Rev. Miss F. P. MacLellan to Foremost was sustained.

In his Home Missions report, Rev. H. Hillsey of Brooks, drew attention to the following students who will come to the presbytery early in May: John Hoffman to Del Bonita, Malcolm Steinberg to Fishburn, and Lawrence A. Beech to Manyberries.

Mr. F. G. Holberton reported as chairman of the Christian Education committee. The Elkwater Camp Association has been formulated to provide camping in the east end of the presbytery. The Canyon Church camp is situated in Red Rock Canyon, for campers in the west part of the presbytery. This summer at the Hi-C camp for boys and girls of ages 16-18 from June 26 - July 1 the visiting leader will be Rev. George Harper, field secretary of the Methodist Board of Education in Great Falls.

Mr. Harper will bring with him a team of teen-agers for this camp. Mr. Andy Russell will talk during the camp on wild life in the Water-ton area.

Catholic Cubs Go on Hike

On Saturday, May 4th, the Catholic Cubs went on a hike with Mr. F. DeCecco. Leaving the hall at 10.30 in the morning, they hiked up to Antle's ranch, from there they climbed up the ridge on the east side of Saskatoon mountain and followed that to the highest peak of Saskatoon arriving there at noon. You can imagine how good those sandwiches and pop were by then, I can tell you there were some pretty warm and tired boys when they set down for lunch.

However in half an hour that was all forgotten and they were as fresh as ever. They hiked back for another few miles and after a short rest turned around to come home again. On the way Mr. DeCecco pointed out various birds and tracks of wild animals and you should have heard all the young imaginative minds speak out "this is a grizzly bear track", "look at the cougar track" and "see the buzzards up there." The boys saw three grouse and you can well imagine the excitement for awhile.

At the first peak of Saskatoon mountain while they were resting, Mr. DeCecco gave them a brief lecture on first aid and improvising in case of accidents, then home.

The Lone Ranger on Silver would have had quite a time to catch the boys coming down the rocks. After a well deserved drink and rest at the park the boys went home a tired but happy bunch. I am sure they did not have to be told to go to bed early that night.

Red Cross Notes

On April 5th, the Women's Work Committee of the Coleman Red Cross Society sent a shipment of sewn articles to the Alberta Division of the Red Cross Society in Calgary. This consisted of the following:

- 17 Sheets.
- 8 Quilts.
- 36 Terry Towels.
- 4 Terry Wash Cloths.

This work is done by volunteers every Wednesday afternoon at 2 p.m. in the basement of the Canadian Legion. Everyone who is willing to give a couple of hours a week of his time for this most worthy and needy cause is gladly welcomed to the work room.

'Get on with job' States Liberal Candidate on Coal

Dr. Gordon Burton, Liberal candidate in the Macleod riding, who believes that a thermal power plant is an immediate answer to the problems of the people of Blairmore, says: "The important thing is not which government is going to provide the assistance, but to get on with the job of building the plant."

"A thermal power plant—using coal to generate electricity—would give immediate employment to all those men who were laid off in the Greenhill mine. It would reopen the mine," Dr. Burton declared.

"We can't allow the people of the Crows Nest Pass to be moved elsewhere. The majority of them, especially the old-timers, don't know anything else but to mine coal," Dr. Burton points out.

Dr. Burton says he is going to wage "a one-man campaign" with Ottawa if he has to in order to obtain the required assistance for Blairmore.

The Liberal candidate's present plans call for seeing Mines Minister Prudham, then Trade Minister Howe and Prime Minister St. Laurent "if necessary."

Recruiting Plan for Young People into Weekly Newspapers

Wider formal education opportunities for would-be weekly newspaper trainees has always been the ambition of Canada's weekly press. For some time now, individual members as well as officers of the CWNA have been seeking a solution to this and allied employment problems.

Against this background and with the co-operation of the CWNA, the Ryerson Institute of Technology and the All Canada Insurance Federation, representing the fire, automobile and casualty insurance businesses, have decided to launch a $5,000 scholarship program.

The program is aimed at attracting and training students from across Canada in weekly newspaper management. Ryerson, for its part, will tailor studies from its long-established Printing Management and Journalism courses to suit young people who aspire to enter the weekly newspaper business. All Canada will underwrite the cost of 10 annual bursary awards of $500 each for young weekly newspaper career-seekers from across Canada.

Ryerson Institute's Printing Management department has become a mecca for weekly editors. Almost every week, an editor pops in to pick the brains of our instructors on new printing processes, quality control, estimating prices, production management. Then they stop by the Journalism department to talk about brightening leads, newspaper law, writing snappy headlines.

This was the birth of an idea. Why not enrich our basic Printing Management course with special Journalism subjects aimed towards the young man or woman who eventually will become publishers of the weekly press? Editors have frequently commented that the future publishers need the combination of printing and administration that our course offers, but the costs of studying in Toronto are sometimes discouraging. At this point All Canada Insurance Federation realized that goodwill would be developed by offering entrance bursaries.

The CWNA hopes that such a plan will focus a spotlight on the commendable work being done by the weekly press, and young people will be attracted to take up printing and publishing as careers. They have asked me to prepare material for you to use in your newspaper, and to draft a speech you might give at a high school career day. They also thought you might consider the merits of holding an "open house" to encourage high school youth to tour your plant.

In endorsing this plan, the CWNA directors, meeting in Ottawa, specified that this $5,000 contest be not restricted to their own membership, but be open to people all across Canada to arouse a healthy interest in the work you are doing.

Yours very truly,
E. U. Schrader,
Director,
Management
Journalism, Printing

Wm. Kovach, MLA, Opposed to Miners Being Moved

William Kovach, Social Credit MLA for the Pincher Creek-Crows Nest constituency told the Blairmore Board of Trade that he is opposed to having the people moved out, "but if the provincial government provides assistance to the Pass, then others will want assistance also — it will snowball and there will be no end."

The Lethbridge Chamber of Commerce is the first outside organization to offer whatever assistance possible in an effort to stabilize the economy of the Crows Nest Pass.

A delegation from the Lethbridge Chamber met with the Social Credit MLA last week and signified its willingness to help.

Mr. Kovach stated the Lethbridge Chamber feels that the Crows Nest Pass means a lot to Lethbridge and "therefore it is also their duty to help."

Four lumber mill operators in the Pass have united to form the North Fork Lumber Company. A large tract of timber land is up for bid near the Pass. The lumber operators feel that if they could be given some consideration to obtain the new timber tract, they could relieve the unemployment situation considerably.

However, they fear that an outside large concern may be the successful bidder for the timber tract and "outside interests have the habit of bringing in outside help."

Be for

BURTON

The closing of the Greenhill Mine was a shock. I was in the Pass on Monday and Tuesday of last week seeing union and company officials and talking to townspeople. What is to be done?

Helping more people to move is NOT the answer. Mining is a highly specialized trade. The average miner laid off last week is 50 years old. He cannot pull up his roots and leave his trade, his home and his community.

An embargo on imported American coal is NOT the answer. The Federal Government is now paying freight subsidies of $4 a ton on Alberta coal and levying a tariff of 50 cents on imported coal. Any increase raises the price of coal to the Ontario buyer and encourages him to shift to gas and oil.

The Provincial Government has the principal responsibility here. Alberta owns the natural resources. Since 1935 the provincial government has collected more than $9 million as royalties, fees and rentals from the coal industry. It has become wealthy from the sale of oil leases—the product which has displaced coal—and is now proposing to distribute $11 million as "dividends."

This money could much better be used to build, or to assist private industry to build a coal burning power plant in the Pass. I am confident that a market can be found for this power.

The Federal Government is preparing to build and operate thermal power plants in Nova Scotia and New Brunswick if requested to do so by those provinces. I am pressing for a plant HERE and have urged immediate consideration of this matter. There is plenty of room for co-operation between the Provincial and Federal Governments to get the project under way.

Your selling

... put your advertising
where people ready-to-buy

MUST SEE IT!

An advertisement can't even begin to sell unless and until it is SEEN by those who are in the market for what is offered for sale. Best way to make sure that your advertisement will be SEEN by the right people at the right time is to advertise in this newspaper. It's all as simple as one-two-three: (1) Folks who want to buy something like to get all the information they can get about what's for sale. (2) They turn naturally to the advertising columns of this paper for a quick comprehensive look at the market. (3) Your advertisement here is never an intrusion or interruption, instead it is exactly what your best prospects are LOOKING for! Take the shortest distance to your largest, most responsive market... via advertising in this newspaper.

TAKE SPECIAL COURSE—About a hundred youths, mainly from rural communities on the Prairies have almost finished a two-months special army militia course at Winnipeg. Offered each year at this time the training is popular with the men who otherwise might have little to do on the farm at this season. They get full pay and allowances and qualify as a trained soldier before returning to their homes and perhaps part-time militia activity. A Test for Potato Cooking Quality: The specific gravity of potato tubers, which is an indication of their cooking quality, can be determined by weighing them in air and then under water and dividing the weight in air by the loss of weight in water. The method is illustrated above (left to right): (1) Weighing accurately 10 pounds of a composite sample of potato tubers; (2) Suspending sample of potatoes in water from which the specific gravity of potatoes can be determined by the potato hydrometer; (3) Resulting the percentage dry matter of the potatoes from the scale on the stem of the potato hydrometer.

No one's to get story of Boer War vet, 78

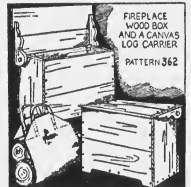

Looking back over 70 years of life, Si Fennel, reputedly the oldest resident of Hines Creek, could find a lot of which to be proud. He is, for instance, one of precious few men alive who fought in the Boer War. He has been a successful rancher, a successful farmer, and . . . The trouble with Si Fennel is that his greatest joy and pride is taken from the fact that no one ever got his history. And as far as he is concerned, no one ever will. "The only reason I can give," said Si, "is that talkin' ain't my line." It is of interest to record that Mr. Fennel did a lot of talking when "that danged camera thing" happened to click, but that was the sort of talking a man does in private.

The Grand Canyon in Colorado is a mile deep.

Fireside box

The stout oak hinges of this fireside box are copies of a pair that were used before metal hinges were in common use. The directions show how to make simulated dovetail construction for the box which holds an evening's supply of wood and provides an extra seat by the fire. The wood carrier is cut from one half yard of thirty-six inch canvas. It is quickly made on the sewing machine and easy to tuck away when not in use. Tracing diagrams for the hinges with large step-by-step sketches for making both box and carrier are on pattern 362. A packet of Early American reproductions containing an assortment of standard size patterns for making authentic pieces is priced at $1.50.

Pair of chairs

A pair of chairs such as these is easy on your budget. Nail frames together, pad with cotton battling basted to muslin and you are ready for covering of your choice. Pattern 250, which shows every step, will be mailed for 25c. The 5-pattern packet, Make-do Furniture for Thrifty Folks, includes the above. Price $1.50. Address order to:

"Thanks kids—you did just fine"

(From The Gazette, Grand Forks, B.C.)

There is a thrill seeing a race well run, a ball well hit, a horse well ridden, a jump well executed.

And there is a thrill in seeing five young boys join together into a unit, go into a game as underdogs and by determination and spirit, win fairly and graciously.

That's what happened at Grand Forks high school gym last Friday night when the Grand Forks boys beat the favorite Trail high squad by three points in an exciting basketball game as local basketball fans have ever witnessed.

The fans were wild with enthusiasm, the coaches developing ulcers, and the players staying the calmest of them all.

The ten men on the floor learned valuable lessons—Friday night—one team learned to lose graciously, which they did. And the other five learned to win happily but like sportsmen. We think it can honestly be said there are no swelled heads on the GFHS team—they are a team.

And the fans—what did they learn? They learned to cheer for the home town—and they had something to cheer about. These fans have been coming to games all year—cheering the boys and girls on in many a defeat. Now they had the happy satisfaction of cheering them on in victory.

Is this crowd hysteria wrong? No, it is not. The crowd was composed partly of people who have played basketball or who are learning to play. For both there is encouragement or satisfaction in a finely played game.

But what of the other spectator who neither plays nor wants to. He too serves—for it is he who financially and vocally supports the home team, who stands by them win or lose, whose loyalty is developed towards something healthy in sport, rather than something unhealthy in life. And the mothers and fathers—there are any thrill greater than seeing their son play heads up ball?

We take off our hats to the boys and girls in the red and black of GFHS. They lost many times this season but that didn't make them give up. Every game they gave it all they had.

And win or lose Friday night they were still our team—and we had reason to be proud of them. To Mr. Longmore and the boys, to Jack Lusk and the girls—you have represented us well and we are proud of you.

And just wait until next year—

Old Age Pension—A vote catcher?

(From The Post, Hanover, Ont.)

As we have pointed out before, the forty anemic dollars pension paid to the aged monthly is wholly inadequate, states "HMM" in the Pembroke Observer. He asks: Where could these pensioners get bed and board anywhere for $40 a month? Where could they get a place to live, either by the week or month, for such a small sum of money?

This small pension, going to our elder citizens, has finally been brought out into the open by the members of both political parties. Since the pension was a Liberal baby, and since there will be a federal election in June, just add the two together and you will come up with something that may concern pensioners very much. For it is evident there will be an increase. What the increase will be, however, may not be known until late in the campaign, else it may become a matter of bidding for votes by the two parties to see which one gets the most votes that way.

A $25 increase has been mentioned, but that may be too high for what the country can afford to pay. As we see it, the pension should be doubled to bring it more in line, more in keeping with our badly inflated dollars when it goes shopping.

Anyway the election is but five months away (according to the latest prediction), the number of aged getting the pension runs into hundreds of thousands in number, all these aged people have votes, thus votes may be worth their weight in gold by election time. And the party that promises the biggest increase, will likely get the most of the votes, from the pensioners at least.

American sportsmen

(From The Bulletin, Brooks, Alta.)

In the letters column this week we hear from W. A. Duncan, a sportsman associated with a lumber firm in Seattle, who has visited this irrigation district for several hunting seasons.

Mr. Duncan has opened our eyes to a few facts regarding the help given to game life in Alberta. People in the State of Washington have contributed more than $60,000 to Ducks Unlimited, to help build lakes in Alberta. His own little group sent $500 to the E.L.D. Fish and Game Association to help buy pheasant eggs a few years ago. In the devastating blizzards six years ago, the State Game Commission sent several thousand fertile pheasant eggs to this district to replace the winter loss.

In spite of this, we feel that Mr. Duncan should not be placed in a position to justify his coming to Alberta to hunt. Whether people in this district want it or not, we have the reputation for having some of the best pheasant hunting in Canada and consequently we are going to have people coming to hunt. So far as "American hunters" are concerned we should extend as courteous a welcome to them as to any other visitors.

To Mr. Duncan in particular, we feel that we speak for the residents in general when we say: Come back anytime, and hope you have better hunting.

What is a boy?

(The Touchwood Times, Punnichy, Sask.)

Between the innocence of babyhood and the dignity of manhood, we find a delightful creature called a boy! Boys come in assorted sizes, weights and colors, but all boys have the same creed: To enjoy every second of every minute of every day and to protest with noise (their only weapon) when their last minute is finished and the adults of the household pack them off to bed at night.

Boys are found everywhere—on top of, underneath, inside of, swinging from, running around, or jumping to. Mothers love them, little girls hate them, older sisters and brothers tolerate them, adults ignore them, and Heaven protects them. A boy is Truth with dirt on its face; Beauty with a cut on its finger; Wisdom with bubble gum in its hair; the hope of the future with a frog in its pocket.

When you are busy, a boy is an inconsiderate, bothersome jangle of noise. When you want him to make a good impression, his brain turns to jelly or else he becomes a savage, sadistic jungle creature bent on destroying the world and himself with it.

A boy is a composite—he has the appetite of a horse, the digestion of a sword swallower, the energy of a pocket-size atomic bomb, the curiosity of a cat, the lungs of a dictator, the imagination of a Paul Bunyan, the shyness of a violet, the audacity of a steel trap, the enthusiasm of a fire-cracker, and when he makes something, he has five thumbs on each hand.

He likes ice cream, knives, saws, Christmas, comic books, the boy across the street, woods, water (in its natural habitat), large animals, Dad, trains, Saturday mornings and fire engines. He is not much for Sunday School, company, schools, books without pictures, music lessons, neckties, barbers, girls, overcoats, adults, or bedtime.

Nobody else is so early to rise, or so late to supper. Nobody else gets so much fun out of trees, dogs and breezes. Nobody else can cram into one pocket, a rusty knife, a half-eaten apple, 3 feet of string, an empty Ball Durham sock, 2 gum drops, 6 cents, a sling-shot, a chunk of unknown substance, and a genuine super-sonic comic ring with a secret compartment.

A boy is a magical creature. You can lock him out of your workshop, but you can't lock him out of your heart. You can get him out of your study but you can't get him out of your mind. Might as well give up—he is your captor, your jailer, your boss and your master—a tickle-faced, pint-sized, cat-chasing, bundle of noise. But when you come home at night with only the shattered pieces of your hopes and dreams, he can mend them like new with two magic words—"Hi Dad!"

A new industry is born

(From The Progress, Winkler, Man.—Feb. 13, 1957)

Saturday was indeed a noteworthy day for the farmers in this area and Winkler too, when the Winkler Co-operative Creamery officially opened its new poultry processing plant here. The community was honored in having the Hon. J. G. Gardiner, Federal Minister of Agriculture, on hand for the opening.

The rapid development that will take place in poultry raising now that the farmers have created an industry to market finished poultry should serve to further bolster farm income, and the payroll created will certainly be of great benefit to Winkler. Congratulations and a wish for good luck in their venture to Creamery Shareholders is extended from the entire community of Winkler.

Wanted by Western Development Museum at Saskatoon — A 40-year-old Hart Parr tractor

In order to round out their exhibits at Saskatoon the Museum there wants a devil. Not the big old Devil himself—just a little devil. As a matter of fact what the Museum is searching for is a tractor put out by the Hart Parr company about 1915 known as The Little Devil.

The story of the Hart Parr company who built this tractor is similar to the romantic history of other pioneer manufacturing companies in the booming agricultural days of America.

In 1892 two mechanically inclined young men met at the University of Wisconsin. They were Charlie Hart and Chas. Parr and their friendship later ripened into the formation of the Hart Parr company which has since been absorbed by the Oliver Corporation.

The two partners built their first gas traction engine in 1901 and it was used continuously for 17 years. In 1904-5 Hart Parr developed the first known method of burning kerosene as fuel which cut fuel costs in half.

In 1915 Hart Parr put out a tractor known as the Little Devil which is the tractor the Museum wants. It was rated as a 15-22 horsepower and was a 2 cycle 2 cylinder job with a thermosiphon water cooling system with a large radiator. The over-all length of the tractor was 12 feet.

It was a three wheel affair—two in front for steering and one large drive wheel in the rear which was five feet in height and over two feet in width. The driver of the tractor was perched out on a little seat on the right hand side of the tractor right out of the dust—or he may have been right in it. It was a good tractor of its kind in its day but leads one to infer that one had to be built rugged to be a tractor operator in those days.

If anyone knows the whereabouts of a Little Devil Hart Parr or even where there are parts for such a tractor the Museum would be deeply grateful for such information. Please contact the Museum, 1839, 11th St. W., Saskatoon.
